For more than two centuries, Christian Fischbacher has been at the heart of the textile industry. We are a family-owned company with headquarters in St. Gallen Switzerland, a centre for the textile industry since the 13th century. Our products are created with great attention to detail, a deep-rooted passion for quality materials and a constant drive for creative innovation. Christian Fischbacher interior fabrics, carpets, bedding and home accessories collections are made for luxurious interiors with personality.

Christian Fischbacher has been in the hands of the same family since 1819. Our deep-seated passion for and knowledge of textiles is part of our heritage that has been passed down for six generations. Each generation has brought its own new ideas to the company and has thus contributed to our ability to maintain the high standards of quality and innovation throughout our history.

ARTE®

Arte is a passionate designer & manufacturer of sophisticated wallcoverings.

The company, owned by the family Desart, has been in play since 1981. Arte wallcoverings adorn the walls of both residential homes and project interiors in over 80 countries worldwide.

Every year, an in-house team of experienced designers creates several new collections. All of these new products must be innovative and trendsetting, while also being of superior quality. A lot of time and effort goes into research: Arte is constantly looking for new production methods and quality materials. That explains why designing a new collection can easily take more than a year.

About half of the products are manufactured in-house through environmentally-friendly processes. A smaller number of wallcoverings are produced by external partners who apply the same quality and sustainability norms. Arte keeps a permanent stock in the headquarters in Zonhoven, Belgium. The company has corporate showrooms in Paris, Culemborg (The Netherlands), London and LA.

Giardini Wallcoverings is a brand established in 2002. The company was born as a division inside a small family company in business since 1872. The family had a long background of entrepreneurship and was managing a solid business in bookbinding since generations. However when the new division started the interior design industry was something totally new.

The founder Giacomo Giardini started up this branch in his younger age wishing to explore a new stimulating industry, which gave him the chance to travel worldwide and open up to an international network of clientele.

In the early years the company presented products to the retail segment and targeted creativity to fit few styles and specific territories.

Since 2012 the company started to take into serious consideration the value of international design and shaped a sophisticated collection to serve the interior designer community. Exclusively to the trade.

Today Giardini Wallcoverings is distributed worldwide to a network of selected elite interior designers.

We combine tradition with a feel for trends: Our textile editor company was founded in Berlin back in 1900. Under the name "HARDT & KREBS", the "Engroshaus für Möbelstoffe, Teppiche und Dekorationsstoffe" was founded. 1926 Herrmann Saum joined the company and took it over with his partner Erwin Viebahn only six years later. In 1945 the company headquarters moved to Kulmbach due to the war.

Today, Susanne Schicker-Westhoff and Andreas Klenk manage the company. Together with around 140 employees, they are committed to making textile dreams come true - most collections are even developed in the company's own studio. The results are high-quality products fitted for any interior design, whether residential or contract.

1983 was the founding year of coratex GmbH, the subsidiary of Saum & Viebahn, in Kulmbach. coratex offers extraordinary services for interior designers regarding marketing among other things. In 1995 the sofatex GmbH was founded as a powerful cooperation for upholsterers.
